PETERSBURG AND RICHMOND MILITARY UNDER ARMS.

To Attend the Phillips Execution--The Richmond Command Finally Goes--Phillips's Statement.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.) PETERSBURG, Va., August 14, 1890.

John Phillips, the negro murderer who is to be hanged at Boydton, Mecklenburg county, to-morrow, has been the occasion of considerable telegraphic correspondence to-day, owing to conflicting orders on the part of the Governor and Adjutant-General.

The best thing that can be done now, so far as we can see, is to obtain a good large, airy hall which will seat all the delegates and alternates and several hundred spectators, and give to the convention, after organization, the option of adjourning to it.

Tickets for outsiders might be printed in advance and handed to the delegates in equal numbers for distribution among their friends.

We feel satisfied that if arrangements are made to admit visitors from many countries, and to Richmond Tuesday to witness the proceedings of the convention. If the sessions are held in the Ball-Room, House Hall there will be room there for very few of them; indeed the limited capacity of that place will require the exclusion of all persons who are not delegates or alternates.

The Henrico Murder. An unpleasant feature of the prosecutions in the matter of the alleged murder of SAMUEL ROBERTSON in Henrico county is that it is quite certain that of the four persons accused one or two or three are innocent.

They are all guilty as principals or as accessories either before or after the fact is wholly incredible; and yet for the time being, and possibly always, the guiltless must suffer in public opinion with the guilty.

This is a terrible hardship, and one for which the law offers no adequate relief. The only thing to be done now is to hasten the investigation, and make it so complete that the real culprits will be shown to the world.

Whispered Confidences. Our press reports shyly suggest that certain whispered confidences told by the Pennsylvania State in the Senate chamber yesterday with other senators on both sides of the house may not have had reference to the proposed compromise in the interest of good sense and patriotism touching the force bill, but that then again they may, Mr. Quay is shy himself, "devilish shy," and we think it more probable that they had, we only hope the outcome will be what is ought to be, and which will be thoroughly acceptable both to the taxpayers and to the bondholders.

We do not doubt that in the quiet of his summer retreat the Governor gave to this extremely important subject a deal of thought. If he is able to fix upon a plan which will be acceptable to the creditors, to the voters, and to the two houses of the General Assembly he will do so. He will do so, and he will do so, and he will do so.

It is not one of the secrets of the State of Virginia that the Governor is a man of high character, and he is not to be so easily won over. He is a man of high character, and he is not to be so easily won over.

Mr. Robert A. Speer, of Speer's Ferry, ten miles west of this place, is one hundred and three years old. Sam. Dykes (colored), who lives on Little Mountain, near this place, is one hundred and eighty years old. There are other old men in the State of Virginia who can beat it--Scott County Democrat.

Very good; but where is the evidence that other men are of the age stated. So far as the public can understand hypnosis and mesmerism are about the same thing, and it is interesting to note that the French Government has distributed representations upon the basis of the census of 1890.

Altogether we see before the Governor much labor. His renewed health and strength will therefore serve him in good stead, and will enable him, we trust, to pilot the old ship of State every rock and shoal that threaten her course.

Main-Street Grades. About fifteen or twenty years ago there was a great discussion about the propriety of undertaking to grade Main street from Fourth to Eighth.

Nearly everybody said that it ought to be done, but the cost and the objections of some few property-owners who believed that they would be subjected to great losses for which no compensation would be made, frightened the City Council, and the scheme was abandoned.

It will probably never be revived, for the city is at this moment putting down new sidewalks, curbstones, and Belgian-block roadways the greater part of the distance. We can never come to regret that this great thoroughfare was graded, and that the matter was agitated. Had it been the decline from St. Albans Hall down to the Park block would have been so gentle as to be scarcely noticeable. Now we have a steep hill to climb and it will always be an obstacle to the extension of business in that direction.

There is little or no use referring to errors in the past unless we are to profit by them. Looking at this part of Main street, as we will frequently do while work is going on there for months to come, we are bound to deplore the Council's lack of foresight in not reducing the grade in years past, and we ought to resolve to adopt a better course for the future. In the future we should fix our grades in advance of building operations, and to do this we ought to have a large street-improvement fund and a distinct, intelligent, and progressive policy. The lack of it has cost this community millions. We cannot afford to go on without it. We must legislate and organize in anticipation of our future growth, and have the policy that can fully develop the resources of this country.

Only fifteen cases of insanity are traceable to the Johnstown disaster, says the report of the Pennsylvania State Committee on Lunacy.

It is admitted, semi-officially, that the population of France, if not actually decreasing, is at a standstill.

ON THE RAPPANNOCK. The "Richmond" an Elegant Steamer--First District Politics--Crops. (Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.) OCCOGEENA, Va., August 14, 1890.

The elegant and commodious steamer "Richmond," of the Western Line, made her appearance on the river last Saturday, and she is said to surpass her cohorts, the "Richmond" and "Richmond," in speed and capacity.

We now have a vessel to be desired in a tourist line--efficient, powerful, and fast. It is a vessel to be desired in a tourist line--efficient, powerful, and fast. It is a vessel to be desired in a tourist line--efficient, powerful, and fast.

The public has been of the opinion that the United States has more officers than it knows what to do with.

The California Republicans, while demanding a force bill for the protection of the negroes of the South, insist that the Chinese shall be absolutely excluded from this country.
